

COVID-19 Guidelines Now on Spectrum Mobile App

Message from PGME

March 18, 2020

Dr. Saxena has sent the following message to your programs today, and asked that we also forward it to you to ensure all residents see it.

*SENT ON BEHALF OF DR. ANURAG SAXENA****

Dear Program Director and Program Administrative Assistant:

Please share the information below with residents in your program.

COVID-19 Guidelines are now available for all of Saskatchewan through the Spectrum mobile app, which is free for all to download from the App Store or Google Play. Spectrum is now available throughout Saskatchewan and provides healthcare workers with access to local guidelines based upon local resistance patterns, antimicrobial formulary and dosing information and pathogen information. COVID-19 guidelines have also been updated into Spectrum based upon current evidence and SHA policy. Through the app, you will be able to access information regarding microbiology, transmission, signs and symptoms, infection prevention and control policy, personal protective equipment procedures, testing criteria, self-assessment tools, community testing centre information, specimen collection and laboratory procedures (with links to RRPL laboratory requisitions), clinical management and treatment and real-time global tracking tools. We will be keeping the app updated in real time if local policies change and as new evidence emerges regarding COVID-19.
