

Brook Danger, PGY3, Internal Medicine

My name is Brook Danger, I am a PGY3 in Internal Medicine and I am getting ready to transition to a Respiriology fellowship in July. I've been in Saskatoon for many years for various degrees and I have loved living and training here! Outside of medicine I have two amazing kids who keep me busy and a wonderful wife who enables all of my success with her unwavering support and hard work. For fun I have a book club where I read the books sporadically (sorry book club!) and a resident volleyball team where I never miss a game and crush every single ball that Dr Daniel Lee sets up for me. I am surprised to win this award with all of the talented and diligent residents I work with everyday but I will try to make the people who nominated me regret it by bringing it up in casual conversation at every opportunity for years to come. Thanks!!

Here are some of the reasons Brook was chosen as Resident of the Month (As quoted from the nomination letter):

"Brook is one of the kindest people I've worked with. He has a knack for making you feel comfortable, and like you can approach him with anything. He goes above and beyond to provide support, encouragement, and understanding."

"He exemplifies effective leadership through helping others find their strength. Despite a busy life with young kids, he always makes time to talk through any problem you approach him with."

"He is one of the seniors in our program who most inspires me to pay it forward and pass on positive vibes, especially to those junior to me. Our program is better for having him in it - he's always got your back!"
